All things strawberry fill the weekend

Welcome to Belleville

The 42nd Annual Belleville National Strawberry Festival (BNSF) would like to welcome you to a weekend of family fun. The BNSF is one of Southeastern Michigan's premier summer events presented by Meijer.

As executive director, I would like to thank the City of Belleville, the police and fire departments, the Boy Scouts, our sponsors, board of directors and everyone who has worked so hard to make the festival a success.

The BNSF has five venues: Main Street, St. Anthony Church, Belleville Presbyterian Church, Trinity Church, and Victory Park.

Main Street features crafters, carnival midway, vendors and a children's area. On Saturday starting an 11 a.m. there is a parade. Also on Saturday Third Street and Main will feature the Fire Truck Pumper Pull Challenge starting at 3:30 p.m. Belleville Central Business District brings juried crafters to Main Street.

Trinity Church features all things strawberry including pies, breads, jam and much more.

They also feature their famous sloppy joe lunches Saturday and Sunday.

St. Anthony's features bingo, great food, entertainment and a beer tent, plus so much more. There is also a carnival on their grounds sponsored by the Belleville Chamber of Commerce.

Belleville Presbyterian Church features tours of their church on Saturday and Sunday. It is one of the original seven Martha Mary Chapels built by Henry Ford and his wife to honor their mothers.

Four decades of celebration

Dear Friends;

Forty-two years ago, the Belleville area strawberry growers decided to get together with their friends at St. Anthony's Church to celebrate another season.

For many years before then, residents of the small community of Belleville had looked forward to the short season of picking strawberries on their knees to enjoy the special taste.

During this short time of the strawberries, they would be consumed multiple times during the day fresh from the baskets, perhaps with a little powdered sugar, on sundaes or shortcakes.

Now, the new homes that have made the Belleville area a special place to live have made strawberry picking a chore of the past. Carnival rides, street vendors and crafters, parades and diverse locations have made The Belleville National Strawberry Festival beyond anything the folks at the first celebration could imagine.

However, the desire to get together to meet friends, enjoy good food, and celebrate life in our "small" town hasn't changed.

Enjoy!

Thomas Fielder, President
Belleville National Strawberry Festival

Tours of Martha-Mary Chapel available

One of the famous historic Mary Martha Chapels will be open to the public during the Strawberry Festival this year.

The chapel at the Belleville Presbyterian Church is one of the seven historic chapels designed by architect Edward J. Cutler under the direction of Henry and Clara Ford. The chapels were erected throughout the state by the couple as a tribute to their respective mothers, Mary Ford and Martha Bryant.

The Belleville chapel will be open for tours from noon until 6 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday during the Strawberry Festival and parking at the church is free.

The first Martha Mary Chapel is located in historic Greenfield Village. The Belleville chapel, built in 1939, on Belleville Road was the third of the seven to be constructed. It was erected at the Camp Legion site of Willow Run, approximately 3 miles from where it stands today.

In 1954, the Cherry Hill Baptist Church transferred the chapel from the Willow Run location to Dearborn but the congregation quickly outgrew the capacity of the church.

In 1978, the Belleville United Presbyterian Church in Van Buren Township bought the chapel for $1. It was moved to the current location and an official dedication ceremony took place on Nov. 11, 1979 which was also a celebration of the 20th anniversary of the Belleville United Presbyterian congregation.

The church is listed on the State of Michigan Register of Historic Places and the tours during the festival are free.

The church is located at 11900 Belleville Road. For more information, call (734) 697-8687.

A warm welcome

Strawberry Festival will be a first for St. Anthony priest

The Rev. Fr. John Kiselica may have spent three decades as a Catholic priest but he is sure to have a new experience this weekend during the Belleville National Strawberry Festival.

Organizers said they are sure Kiselica, who arrived at Saint Anthony Catholic Church in Belleville last September, has never seen anything quite like the huge crowds of people who throng to the area to celebrate the strawberry harvest.

"We are looking forward to showing Fr. John the spirit of activism and community that is on display during this event every year," said one committee volunteer. "We think he will be impressed."

Kiselica replaced Fr. Thomas Cusick who retired at the end of August last year after 28 years at the helm of St. Anthony's.

Kiselica previously served as a school chaplain at a number of Catholic high schools in the Archdiocese including Divine Child, Orchard Lake, St. Mary's, Warren DeLaSalle and Notre Dame High School in Harper Woods.

He was also stationed at Selfridge Air National Guard Base as a Catholic Chaplain in the U.S. Air Force Reserves.

He is turning to full-time parish ministry at St. Anthony's and said that his experiences helping in local parishes as weekend mass assistant will benefit his assignment in Belleville.

He said that he left the educational apostolate well aware that teaching was "a younger man's game" and aware, too, of the changes in classroom education since he was first ordained in 1984.

That past experience in the classroom and educational discipline has impressed several members of the St. Anthony's community.

Parishioner Carol Ann Pesta said she feels that "Father John" has embraced the Belleville community and that he greets the students as they start their day at Belleville High School.

"Newly appointed as the Pastor, Father John was asked by Belleville High School to give a blessing at the Robotics competition," she said. "We appreciate his time and energy and involvement in so many activities," Pesta said.

Kiselica said that his first reaction on learning of his new post was "Where is Belleville?" While he served in several communities in the state, he is a native of Hartford, CN and grew up in Syracuse, NY. He said he had to consult a map to find Belleville but after his first drive through the community he was won over by the warm, small-town atmosphere and friendly people.

He will undoubtedly be even more impressed by the spirit of community and celebration that the Strawberry Festival brings to town. While all the venues will be packed with visiting crowds, the St. Anthony participation has always been a huge part of the event.

St. Anthony's will again offer live bands and entertainment, bingo, a carnival midway, pony rides, Polish foods and a huge variety of all things strawberry for sale.

Kiselica has been warmly welcomed by members of the parish, including John Zaroff who commented, "Father John is breathing new life into our parish."

Others appreciate Kiselica's management style.

"Father John has taken control and the parish seems to have peace and tranquility," said parishioner Sharon Manier.

"Father John has turned our church into a place where you want to come and worship," agreed Marcel and Linda LeBlanc. "His sermons make you sit back and think on matters like your salvation. We are very grateful for his calling to be a priest."

Martin and Son family honored as Grand Marshal

After more than six decades, Martin and Son is a tradition in Belleville.

The store opened on Dec. 3 in 1956 when Henry and son Frederick first opened the doors at 401 Sumpter Road in Belleville, as Henry Martin returned from his tour of duty in Korea.

The store has been there ever since and has provided jobs for numerous local residents through the years. Many graduates of Belleville High School Vocational Center got their first jobs at Martin and Son and several Vo-Tech teachers counted on the help of Martin and Sons to obtain their certification with the State of Michigan when it became a requirement.

Three generations now work in the auto repair shop as Fritz, now 86, still works every day, helped by his son, Randy and grandson, Brent. Henry Martin died in 1974 but his work ethic and commitment to the community is still evident at Martin and Son. While the store has changed some, the basic ideas of good service and attention to detail has remained. The store originally sold Sinclair gas, along with the repair service of farm machinery and lawn mowers and vehicles. The business no longer sells gas but continues the repair operations.

Along with Fritz, Randy and Brent, Juanita Martin worked at the business for more than 20 years and her job in accounts and advertising has been assumed by Randy's wife, Debra, after being handed down to each Martin daughter.

The Belleville Strawberry Committee voted unanimously to honor the Martin family as the Grand Marshal of the Strawberry Parade this year.
